

LOCAL MATTERS.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES, June 8, 1880.—For the Middle Atlantic States stationary or slowly followed by falling barometer; northerly wind to easterly winds, partly cloudy weather, falling followed by rising temperature.

THE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY AND HIGH SCHOOL.—The closing and commencement exercises of these two institutions of learning will take place this present month. The closing exercises at the Episcopal High School will be on Monday, June 22, address before the literary societies by Right Rev. R. H. Wilmer, D. D., Bishop of Alabama; 3 p. m., Wednesday, June 23, delivery of prizes and certificates for scholarship, and address by Governor Holaday, of Virginia.

The closing exercises of the Seminary will take place on Wednesday, June 23, as follows: Ten a. m., meeting of the alumni, and reading of an essay by Bishop Lee, of Delaware; 8 p. m., sermon before the missionary society by Rev. J. S. Lindsey, of Georgetown, D. C.

The commencement exercises of the same place, as given below: Ten a. m., Thursday, June 24, reading of essays by graduates; 1 p. m., Friday, June 25, Ordination services at St. Paul's Church, Alexandria.

The following Bishops are expected during the week: Right Revs. T. O. Dallas, of Kentucky; L. C. of Delaware; Penick, of Arizona; Patrick, of West Virginia; Pickney, of Maryland; Whitely, of Virginia, and Wilmer, of Alabama.

IMPROVEMENTS.—The four-story brick building, in the corner of King and Henry streets, built by John F. M. Lowe, about twenty-five years ago, having been purchased by the Government, is now being torn down the building, and in its place the Government will erect a building from the old material, that will be an ornament to that part of the city. Mr. Rogers also intends to build a warehouse on the lot adjoining his store, on the corner of King and Fayette streets.

There are several buildings now going up in different parts of the city, and several others, it is said, will be commenced in the course of a month or two.

The shed on Mr. E. A. Read's wharf, blown down by the recent storm, is being replaced by a large and substantial structure.

THE CONTENTED ELECTION CASE.—The contested election case, in the 4th ward, came up for hearing before Judge Chilton in the Corporation Court this morning. A petition was presented by H. E. Drayton, colored, the defeated candidate for constable in the 4th ward, asking that a new election be ordered in that ward on the ground of irregularity, and setting forth that illegal votes were received by the judges on the day of election; it also contains several other specifications. John M. Johnson, colored, appeared for C. O. Siple, the candidate returned as elected, and A. W. Harris, colored, and E. M. Hunter for Drayton. After hearing the arguments on both sides, the Judge reserved his decision in the case until to-morrow. Edmund Burke, colored, who has been mentioned as one of the counsel for Drayton, did not appear in the case at all.

APPLICATION FOR A WRIT OF ERROR.—An application will be made to Judge Keith, to-morrow by Judge Charles E. Stuart, for a writ of error and supersedeas to the matter of George Handrick, Richard Richmond and Wm. Day, colored, recently arrested by the Virginia authorities for unlawful fishing in the lower Potomac, at Stony Point, and held by Judge Jas. S. Sanger for their appearance at the August term of the County Court of Fairfax. The application will be based upon the facts which the defendants offered to prove before Judge Sanger, that they were fishing in their own fish, at the time of the disturbance, in the Potomac River, within the jurisdiction of the State of Maryland.

A COLORED PREACHER IN JAIL.—For some time past there has not been going on in the family of one First Clark, a colored preacher, as usually as they are supposed to do in the family of one of the ministerial profession. Last week Clark was arrested for beating his stepson and taken to the station house, but the trial of the case being postponed until the next day, the accused failed to put in his appearance. He and his wife were arrested again yesterday, and taken before Judge Whitlatch, who fined both man and wife for beating, and, in default of payment of said fine, they were committed to jail.

THE ROBBERY SUNDAY NIGHT.—As stated in the Gazette, a sailor named Scheff, and J. C. Decker, were arrested yesterday afternoon on suspicion of robbing the money drawer of Mr. Daniel Henry's restaurant Sunday night (or Monday morning). The two men had an examination later in the evening before Justice Thompson and Decker was released as there was no evidence to incriminate him, but Scheff was committed to jail for further examination. With the exception of the suspicion resting upon Scheff, there is as yet no clue to the robbery.

TARGET SHOOTING.—The members of the Alexandria Light Infantry, under command of Lieutenant George McBurney, assembled at their armory, in fatigue uniform, at half past three o'clock this evening, and proceeded in a body to Jones' Point, where a target shooting match between the members took place, in the presence of a large crowd of spectators, for a silver medal, offered by Major George Duffey to the best shot in the command. Each member was allowed five shots, the distance being 200 yards.

FROM ST. JOHN'S CADETS.—The cadet corps of St. John's Academy, which left here on Sunday last, have arrived at River Springs, and are now in camp. The cadets are all well, and nothing has happened to mar their pleasure, as well as being the following card, received at this office this morning:

St. John's Academy cadets are all well and enjoying themselves.

THE ARCTIC STEAMER.—The boiler of the Arctic steamer Osburn, now lying at the Washington navy yard, was inspected yesterday by United States naval inspectors and pronounced entirely satisfactory. There is now no doubt but that the steamer will be accepted by Secretary Thompson, and the fact of permanent party, and the sailing crew of the vessel having been selected, the expedition will start, it is understood, sometime this month.

HARVESTING.—Harvesting commenced in all the surrounding country this morning. The wheat crop in Fairfax county, especially near West End, is said to be full and of a superior quality, while in some other sections it is thought probable that it will not be quite up to the standard, and a good deal of snail is reported. The recent rains were productive of much good, and all the other crops are in excellent condition.

APPEAL APPLIED FOR.—An appeal has been applied for from the decree of Judge Willford, in the suit of Lewis and others against the Washington and Ohio Railroad. The application is made by the bondholders of the road, who will probably be joined in prosecuting the appeal by all the parties affected adversely by the decree, which, among other things, orders the sale of the road.

There was no meeting of the Young Men's Republican Club at the Oxford Odd Fellows Hall last night, as proposed owing to the failure of the Chicago convention to make any nominations. The meeting will take place next Monday night.

CORPORATION COURT.—Judge A. W.

Chilton presiding.—James H. Crump, Justice of the Peace in the Second ward, qualified.

A license to keep a bar room to sell beer was granted to Ann Verdon.

Retail liquor licenses were granted to Lewis Stein and Fisher, Roes & Co.

Home vs. Hootch, chancery; report of Leonard & Hootch, chancery; decree directing Commissioner Wattles to convey title to Mrs. K. B. Hootch to property purchased by her.

Stewart vs. Cook et al.; chancery; report of R. T. Lucas, receiver, filed.

Clifton & Co. vs. Stewart et al.; chancery; report of Beach & Johnson, commissioners of sale, filed.

Drayton vs. Siple; contested election; argument on demurrer heard and decision reserved.

APPOINTMENTS.—Mr. C. H. Smithers, has been appointed to the position of train dispatcher on the telegraph office of the Virginia Midland Railroad, vice Mr. W. T. Dako, who has gone to Baltimore. Mr. Smithers is a thoroughly competent gentleman, having held a like position to the one he has just been appointed in the office of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad for the past ten years.

Carl Chichester, and First Officer George Young, of the steamship E. C. Knight, lying between this city and New York, having resigned their positions, Captain Thomas B. Travis has been appointed to the command of that steamer, and started out on his first trip this morning.

MARRIAGE.—Mr. A. G. P. Dodge, Jr., son of Mrs. A. G. P. Dodge, of this city, and grandson of Mrs. John B. Daingerfield, was married in London, last week, by Rev. Dr. Tyng, of New York, to Miss Ada Dodge, daughter of John Stewart Dodge, a Syrian missionary. The contracting parties have a large circle of friends in Alexandria, and many good wishes are extended to the happy couple.

ACCIDENT ON THE CANAL.—At one o'clock Sunday afternoon the boat A. J. Mills, when at Big Slack Water, was thrown against the lower gates of the lock which were broken. The boat commenced to leak and sank very rapidly. The three mules were dragged into the water and drowned. The captain scarcely escaped with his family.

CONTRACT AWARDED.—The Committee on Poor of the City Council met at the Auditor's office this afternoon and awarded the contract for furnishing supplies to the Alms House, for the next three months, to Mr. Charles King.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the City Council will be held to-night.

One is surprised at the number of original Garfield men there are in Alexandria already.

Mr. Thomas Devers, an old and respected citizen of Fairfax county, died at his home in that county to-day.

There will be a Gospel Temperance meeting at the Tent, corner of Duke and Payne streets, this evening at 8 o'clock.

A colored man named Joseph Johnson, while at work unloading a coal laden schooner at Mr. Wm. A. Smith's dock, yesterday evening, fell down a hatchway of the vessel and cut his head and face badly.

The excursion of the Alexandria Reform Club to Marshall Hall to-day was attended by a large crowd. The last boat will leave this city at half past seven o'clock this evening and return at two o'clock to-night.

Mr. George Merrick, of Fairfax county, fell in an epileptic fit on King street this afternoon. He was carried to the drug store of Messrs. Lee and Davidson, where the proper restoratives were administered, and he soon recovered.

The contributions placed in the boxes which were distributed last Saturday will be devoted to the erection in this city of a monument to the memory of the Alexandrians who were killed or died in the Confederate service, who were buried, and not to those interred here only, as stated heretofore.

Judging from the preparations being made the excursion of the Alexandria Musical Association next Friday night will be the excursion of the Alexandrians who were killed or died in the Confederate service, who were buried, and not to those interred here only, as stated heretofore.

TIMBER CULTURE.—We feel sure that the subject of timber culture does not engage the attention of the public as its merits demand. The annual consumption of railroad ties alone is over 40,000,000. It requires thirty years' growth to produce the average railroad tie. There are over 90,000 miles of railroad in this country; making over 180,000,000 of ties of this kind; cost over $10,000,000, and over $15,000,000 annually for repair. We have over 75,000 miles of telegraph wires, which require over 300,000 telegraph posts, and the annual repair takes 3,000,000 more. But, if we should go on and encumber the amount required for farm and grazing, buildings, brick burning, which requires 2,000,000 cords a year) match making, shoe pegs, furniture, sking, saddle tree making, packing boxes, a yoke and tool handles of all kinds, wagons, carriages, agricultural implements and fire wood—it would swell the grand total to at least 200,000,000 annually. And notwithstanding this great demand and shortened supply, the havoc of lumber destroying is going on just as rapidly as ever. The time is coming when this wholesale destruction will be regretted. The supply will be exhausted, and then it will take more than fifty years to restore it, at great expense and labor. The supply thereafter can never be made to equal to the demand for it. Those who will now turn their attention to timber culture and to the preservation of what timber they have, will receive a big reward in the near future.

The Smith-Elam Duel.

In addition to the account of the duel between Misses Thomas Smith, of Warrenton, son of ex-Gov. Smith, and W. C. Elam, editor of the Richmond Whig, published yesterday, the Richmond States furnishes the following additional particulars:

The duel grew out of an article in the Whig of the 1st, in which in the following paragraph touching Gov. Wm. Smith, charging him with "sneaking off with swag and with disgraceful justification."

"The career of these political humbugs has been marked by every variety. In 1859 they abandoned the national campaign in its supreme hour of trial and plunged Virginia into secession, revolution and war to promote their own selfish purposes. Having thus precipitated us into a long and sanguinary struggle, they engaged for themselves all the positions of honor, profit and trust [and of safety as well] while the masses of the devoted people were sent to slaughter and privation. Never for a moment during the whole four years of strife did they yield the spoils; never for a moment did their party yield to statesmanship or patriotism; and the Confederacy was left to drift to ruin amidst the ruinous jealousy of sly and bitter men, who did not belong to their faction, and their own blacklegging and diffidence over the plaudits which they reserved for themselves, while the people starved and the army was unpaid and unsupplied. Even in the final collapse and catastrophe these creatures were true to the grovelling instincts of their natures, and the Confederacy, as a civil and political existence, perished miserably as its President, the Governor of Virginia, and the whole bombproof corps grabbed the remaining swag and sneaked away in humiliating disguise and shameful treachery."

Letters thereupon were sent from Colonel Smith to Mr. Elam inquiring whether Mr. Elam meant to stigmatize General and ex-Gov. Smith. Mr. Elam replied that he had no explanation to make.

Friday night Col. Smith, accompanied by Gen. Wm. H. Payne, Capt. Alex. Payne and Mr. Bernard P. Greene, came to this city. The party spent the interval at the residence of Mr. Wm. L. Royall. They left his house yesterday morning at 4 o'clock in two buggies and drove straight to Oakwood Cemetery, to which place it is understood that Mr. Elam, Mr. Jas. B. Walters, of the Whig, and another gentleman, whose name has not been heard, went in a hack.

It was stipulated that the parties should proceed to a line near the fence of Oakwood cemetery and there agree upon the spot where the duel should be fought. The place selected was a grove east of Oakwood and near the York River railroad, and in the immediate vicinity of the spot where the Mordecai McCarthy duel was fought.

It was also stipulated that no person should be on the ground, save the principals and their seconds. Two surgeons are said to have been near the field, but in fact only one surgeon was near.

The two principals, accompanied only by their seconds, then went to the field, leaving the other parties near the line of the Oakwood cemetery fence. The two men were put in position. At the first fire Mr. Elam fell to the ground.

Mr. Walters, upon seeing his principal wounded and bleeding, went in search of the surgeon, who was found some distance from the place. When the doctor arrived on the field Mr. Elam was the only person there.

His wound was temporarily dressed, and he was carried to the residence of Mr. James B. Walters, when Dr. Hugh M. Taylor was called in and rendered the necessary surgical attention.

Mr. Elam was struck in the center of the chin, the ball striking the bone and embedding itself under the tongue. The countenance broke the jaw bone on the right side of the face. The physicians are of opinion that the wound will heal very rapidly and Mr. Elam will soon be out again.

It is understood that after the fight, Colonel Smith and his friends drove from Richmond to the White House, from which place they walked to Lester Manor. It is also understood they expected to go from that point to Baltimore on a freight train. The sudden appearance of the party at Lester Manor and their hurry to get away excited the suspicions of some of the people there, and it was surmised that a duel either had been or would be fought.

Warrants were issued for the arrest of Messrs. Smith, Elam, James B. Walters and W. H. Payne.

The following witnesses were summoned: Daniel Wren, S. B. Watt and Dr. Hugh M. Taylor.

Strat, Daniel Wren found Mr. Elam at Mr. Walters' residence, and saved the warrant upon him. Mr. Elam's condition being such as to prevent his removal he was paroled. Mr. Walters was arrested and taken before Justice William Hall Crow and bailed in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at the Police Court next Saturday morning. Mr. John Booth surety.

It is said that the party first selected by Mr. Elam as his second withdrew, and that Mr. Walters was selected. Who this party was has not transpired.

Capt. C. H. Gausey, clerk of the Senate, is said to have been one of Mr. Elam's friends in the affair, and it is understood that he will be summoned as a witness. He went to Petersburg to acquaint General Mahone with the result of the duel.

A gentleman who left Petersburg yesterday states that the General was himself indulging in shooting of a more innocent sort, being, in fact, out to the back yard with a double barreled shot gun shooting English sparrows.

Dr. M. B. Carter has been summoned as knowing something about the duel.

Ernest P. Greene, ex. of Paquetier's party, is understood to have been the second of Col. Smith and General Wm. H. Payne friend or referee.

No arrests were made yesterday, and the arrangements of all the parties concerned seem to have been made with the object of preventing any arrests.

General Payne is a member of the Legislature; Mr. Greene a close friend of Col. Smith; Mr. Walters a backer of the Whig newspaper.

One dispatch from Richmond says: "Before the return of Mr. Elam's wound in his search for a physician his principal failed from exhaustion and loss of blood. It is stated when Elam fell Smith came forward and the combatants shook hands, and Smith expressing the deepest regret that possibly for the unfortunate meeting had arisen, Elam in reply said he felt infinitely relieved that he, instead of Smith, had been wounded. The parties then separated in the most amicable manner."

The Dispatch of today says: "Yesterday the wounded man was visited by a large number of friends and sympathizers. Last night the wound was reported to be a dangerous one, and Mr. Elam has suffered great pain. He is unable to take any food except through a glass tube. Although his injuries are reported dangerous and painful, no serious results are anticipated, although sometime will necessarily elapse before he will be fully restored to health and usefulness."

Mr. Walters requested that the distance be not more than two miles, as his principal was near-sighted, and any greater distance would place him at a disadvantage. This request was readily acceded to.

Mr. Elam is the third editor of the Whig who has been engaged in a duel. He is about 43 years of age, of medium height and weighs about 145 lbs. Although a young man, his hair is a moist white. His eyes are blue, his hair is a moist white. His complexion is a clear pinkish.

Colonel Smith is a son of ex-Governor Smith. He is a gentleman of attainments, culture, courtesy, and courage. After the firing of the shot he hastened to the side of his late antagonist, and the pair sat together in deadly conflict.

It was especially stipulated and agreed that there should be no witnesses to the hostile meeting. No person but the principals and seconds could see the parties to the duel. Report states that the distance was ten paces, the weapons duelling pistols, and that at the word both gentlemen fired. The discharge of the pistols was followed by the fall of Mr. Elam, who received the ball of his adversary in the chin, crushing in his teeth and severely shattering his left jaw, the ball lodging in the mouth.

The splendid management and secrecy with which the affair was conducted is admirably commensurate upon all sides, the general expression being that all the parties engaged "meant business."

The Strassbourg Clock Outdone.

A wonderful clock said to be superior in mechanism and the variety of its performances to the famed Strassbourg astronomical and apostolic clock, has been placed on exhibition in Tammany Hall, and for a considerable time will remain there for the inspection of the public.

This clock was constructed at Detroit by Prof. Felix Meiers, a gentleman who has devoted his entire life to the study of astronomy and mechanics. It is called the American National Astronomical Clock, and it is probably the most complex and ingenious horological work that the hand of man has ever produced.

The clock is eighteen feet high, eight feet wide, and five feet deep, and weighs 4,000 pounds. It is wound once in twelve days, and is run by weights of 700 pounds. It shows the local time in hours, minutes and seconds, and the time of thirteen other cities of the world, among which are Washington, San Francisco, Melbourne, Pekin, Cairo, Constantinople, St. Petersburg, London, Berlin, and Paris. It also denotes the movements of the planets, and measures their movements by seasons, years, and cycles for two hundred years, including leap years.

Concealed in its interior is a music box, which plays when Death strikes each hour. At the same moment the figure of Washington, seated in a chair beneath a canopy, rises to his feet, holding the Declaration of Independence in his right hand. A liveried servant, coming at the right hand also rises and opens a door, through which come all the Presidents of the United States, who march in review before the effigy of Washington, saluting him as they pass. The procession disappears through a door on the opposite side of the platform, which is opened and closed by a servant in gorgeous livery. The likenesses of these figures, including that of President Hayes, who is in the rear, are said to be excellent. As soon as the door is closed the figure of Washington resumes his chair of state and all is quiet until the hammer of Death again sounds the hour on the going, when the extraordinary scene is repeated.

The quarter hours are struck by an infant, the half hours by a youth, and the three quarters by a man. The South Church, Boston, has offered $4,000 for the clock, the price of which is $50,000.—N. Y. Times.
